WHY KILRAIN LOST.

HE WAS IN A BAD PHYSICAL CONDI-

BELIEF THAT IT WAS A HIPPODROME,

Notwithstanding Kilrain's Tears Over the Result-Departure of the Sluggers and Their Friends for Home.

New Orleans, July 9.—Kilrain and his friends have all left the city and the populace are gradually quieting down and affairs are assuming their normal condition. Kilrain, who was believed to have received such terrible punishment about the body, appeared this morning to be as fresh as a daisy. After his return from the battlefield he was conveyed to the Southern Athletic club rooms and given a bath, after which he retired to his room. He vomited a green substance, some of which has been bept for analysis, in order to determine whether he had been "dosed" (as he intimated), or not. Every convenience and accommodation was accorded him, and the janitor of the club assisted in attending to Rumors that Kilrain had been suffering from a loathsome disease had been freely cir-culated and proved to be true. Dr. Dougherty, of Philadelphia, had been attending to him, and Kilrain had been taking medicine ever since his arrival here. Dr. Dougherty states to some of the members of the club that he had been treating Kilrain for some time.

NO SYMPATHY FOR KILRAIN.

These facts only became known in the club today and the consequence was that there was a revulsion of opinion in regard to Kilrain and some of the members remarked, when he had gone, that they wished they had never invited him. Donovan stated that he didn't know anything of this prior to the fight, otherwise he would have had nothing to do with it or he wouldn't have allowed Kihrain to enter the ring. Since the fact has become known, Kilrain's sluggish movements, his disinctination to strip and his aversion to take excreise, as well as Mitchell's care that he should not take any, and Kilrain's troubled looks, his rather cadavarous face, in fact a hundred strange actions, words and looks are all attributed to this Was IT A HIPPOEROME?

Professor Robinson, in charge of the pupils some of the members remarked, when he had

Professor Robinson, in charge of the pupils of the Southern Athletic club, who witnessed the fight, stated openly on the train while returning that the fight was a colossal "fake from beginning to end, and that Sullivan and Kilrain were both parties to it. This explained Sullivan's magnanimity to-wards Kifrain when he had him at his mercy wards Kifrain when he had him at his mercy several times during the fight, when he could quite easily have knocked him out. He professes to know all about sparring and has seen a number of prize fights, and is competent to judge. His assertions are made openly to members of the club, and have evoked no little comment. Some allege that he is mistaken, for too many heavy blows were hit, and the principals received too much punishment.

Kilrain arose this morning and desired to take a bath in the swimming tank, but was not permitted to do so.

chest with his fingers without causing Khrain much pain.

SULLIVAN STILL IN THE CITY.

John L. Sullivan, William Muldeen and Mike Cleary are still in the city. This evening they reached the rooms of the Young Men's Gymnastic club, where they were invited into the parlors, where Sullivan was presented with a large wreath of flowers represented with a large wreath of flowers represented with a large wreath of flowers represented. vited into the parlors, where Suliivan was presented with a large wreath of flowers representing a horseshoe. Suliivan acknowledged the gitt in a very brief speech. In the meantime a large crowd had gathered outside, and to avoid these Suliivan was led to the rear door and lit out, seturning to his room about 9.45 o'clock. He was then semewhat under the influence of liquor, and four policemen stood at the corner in case he committed any overticet.

Chief of Police Hennessy and John Fitzments. It is said that Canada and the will leave the city to-morrow morning on the steamship Hudson, for New York, but whether Muldoon goes with them or not is uncertain. Sullivar's face deeds not exhibit much of the bruises and cuts he received during the fight.

Smith Challenges Sullivan.

London, July 9.—Smith has challenged Sul-livan to fight in Europe for £1,000 a side.

KILRAIN'S DEPARTURE.

The Defeated Puglist Too Sharp for Governor Lowery.

New Orleans, July 9.—The governor of Msssissippi got out a requisition for Kilrain's arrest, but Jake gave overyone the slip and left here very quietly at 7:15 this morning over the Queen and Crescent line and was ovar the state line before he was missed. He will go straight through to Baltimore without stop ping, arriving early Thursday morning, Mitchell, Pony Moore and Johnny Murphy are with the party. Frank Stevenson remains behind to settle up business matters. The excursion money will give each man about $4,000. noon. False report was started here this three broken ribs and caused much excitement ong the sporting fraternity. What rest Kilrain was able to obtain during the night does not seem to have braced him up to any great extent and it is evident that his mental suffering is much more pregnant than pain caused by his physical injuries. WHY THEY HATE SULLIVAN.

The Boston Bruiser's Visit to Charleston

Eight Years Ago. CHARLESTON, S. C., July 9-[Special.[-The short-hair community of this old city is not numerous, but was out at daylight yesterday and hung around the bulletin boards in the hot sun until 5 p. m., when the first authentic news of the victory of Sullivan was received, and then it went home cursing and kicking and swearing. The Boston king is most cordially hated in the cradle of secession, and while those who could find takers at reasonable odds put up their money on Sullivan, they earnestly prayed his defear.

This is how this anomalous state of affairs was brought about. Some eight or ten years ago the fascinating John, Muldeon, Cleary and select coterie of plugs made a starring tour through the south. They came to Charleston and advertised a sparring exhibition at the Academy of Music, at $2 a head. Charleston at that time was ready to fall down and worship the great bean-eater. The whole house was sold out a week in advance of his arrival.

GRRAT EXPECTATIONS.

On the night of she show the theater was packed from pit to dome. John was down for four minutes on the programme and the house was wild with excitement and enthusiasm.

The king and his court was met at the depot ou their arrival and escorted to the swell hotel affected by rich northern tourists in triumph only. Those who managed to get close the great John L. suspected somthing wrong and even these did not think much of it. The truth was that the king and his court were as drunk as lords.

The cartain went up and the performance commenced. The audience were waiting for the great slugger and when he finally appeared it ALMOST LIFTED THE ROOF. When John Cleary squared away they danced about the stage for five minutes and then retired. Later on the performance was repeated, and the crowd began to catch on to repeated, and the crowd began to catch on to the fact that they had been taken in. "Rats," cried out the local king of athletes, and the cry was taken up in five seconds. The orchestra was drowned in the pandemonium. The performance was stopped and the curtain rang down. Just as the police, fifty strong, were getting ready to clear the hall, the curtain went up and silence was once more restored. Then the Boston slugger was seen to lurch out from one of the wings, and staggering towards the footlights rolled up just in time to save him from plunging into the orchestra.

SULLIVAN'S SPEECH.

"See here," he exclaimed; "some peoples is hogs-as what I says-some peoples hogs. I ikes hogs—miscuriously, as a general thing—but I knows hogs when I sees 'em. I'm a genman, as wot I am, and I don't wan't no foolin. I am't no sucker an' don't you forget it. Now wot I wonttersays this, if theres anny

it. Now wot I wonttersays this, if theres anny gemman ere, as seze e ain't got nuff for his money, jeux lettlin step up on this stage and I'll give him all he wants. Come right up, gemmen, no limit. Dat's de kind of hairpin I am, an' don't you forget it."

There were evidently no hogs of the kind mentioned by Mr. Sullivan in the audience, or at least none appeared on the stage. A few minutes later the police cleared the house. The Boston's lugger was taken to his swell hotel in a close cab, drank a basket of Pieper Heidsick and at 2 o'clock in the morning was on his way southward bound, followed by the anathemas of the disgusted anatieur athletes. Charleston has never forgotten the insuit, and hence there was no rejoicing here over the defeat of Kilrain.

A STRANGE CROWD. A New Religious Sect and What They Be-

COLUMBAI, S. C., July 9.-A correspondent of the Sonthern Christian Advocate gives the following particulars of a new religious com munity developing in the eastern part of South Carolina: "It may not be entirely uninteresting to hear something of a new sect that has sprung up in Sumter and some of the adjoining counties. Some years ago a man named Boyle, who had been a Methodist, and who resided near Lynchburg, in Sumter county, conceived the idea of founding a new sect. His followers were at first called 'True Light Baptists,' but they are commonly known as Boyleites. They have spread up both sides of Lynch's river through Sumter, Darlington, Kershaw and Chester-field counties, and perhaps farther, taking hold of the LOWEST AND MOST IGNORANT CLASSES.

It is not a large denomination, and thanks to the intelligence of our land, never can be; but its followers are very stubbern in their belief, so that it is almost impossible to reclaim one of them. Their most prominent and popular doctrine is that it is an unpardonable sin for a preacher to receive pay for his work, and this closes their ears to the efforts of the regu-lar ministry. They have no regular ministers, but claim that every member of their church is inspired of God to interpret the scriptures, thus making every one of both sexes ministers of the gospel. It is not uncommon for women to preach among them.
Another favorite dogma is that they constimen to preach among them.

Another favorite dogma is that they constitute the only true followers of God and that all other denominations are

HEADING STRAIGHT FOR THE DEVIL.

They believe in immersion, of course, but with this distinction, that it must be administered by one of their communion to be of any avail. They reject the Old Testament entirely and receive only such portions of the New and receive only such portions of the New Testament as suit their purpose, rejecting any passages that are opposed to their peculiar beliefs as uninspired. They claim that the observance of the Sabbath was abrogated along with Levitical law and hence reject Sanday as a day to be sheered in the worship of God. They perform ordinary work on Sanday, or engage in any sports that they desire, and have been seen iddling and dancing on that day. They believe in the damnation of infants of unbelieving (non Boyleite) parents who die in elieving (non Boyleite) parents who die in of the races.

Just what else they believe in I am unable around Marshail's to say. They flourish around Marshail's church in East Kershaw circuit and have churches of their own in some portions of Kershaw county. As a rule DENSE IGNORANCE PREVAILS where they flourish. I heard a man say not long since, that he once taught a school in a neighborhood where they now claim a majority of people as their adherents, and that only two out of sixty pupils in his school knew their letters when they first came to him. Generally they will not permit a minister of the gospel to read the scripture or engage in prayer in their houses, and if they concede that much to him they lough and talk while he prays and pay no attention whatever to him.

WILL SUBMIT TO ARBITRATION. Probable Ending of the Streator Coal Miners Strike.

STREATOR, Ill., July 9.—Action was taken by the miners of Streator yesterday, which will probably end the strike. The Coal Run will probably end the strike. The Coal Run company, which sometime ago proposed the plan of profit sharing to its employees, has since the rejection of that scheme signified its willingness to arbitrate. At a mass meeting yesterday it was decided, by an almost unanimous vote, to approve of an arbitration between the Coal Run company and its employees. Strater is now by nearly a unanimous Streater is now by nearly a unanimous committed to an independent policy in After announcing the vote, the president After announcing the vote, the president stated to the meeting that, in his opinion, arbitration would settle the strike for all the miners of Streator, as well as for the Coal Run company. This company only employs two hundred men, but as the issues involved are mainly the same as with other mines, a settlement for one will be practically a settlement for all. The board of arbitration will be company, one by the miners and these two to choose the third. Their award must be made on or before August 7th, and pending their decision the Coal Run company's miners will resume work at old prices.

THE CLOUDS BURST.

AND AMSTERDAM AND AKIN, N. Y., ARE FLOODED.

A DAM BREAKS AT JOHNSTOWN, N. Y. Railroad Tracks Washed Away for Miles-Trains Cut Off Between Washouts-

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., July 9 .- A cloud burst washed away the Central railroad tracks between Akin and Tribes Hill stations, about five miles west of Amsterdam, this afternoon, causing another delay to all trains. The wreck of the freight train which blocked all four tracks this morning had just been cleared, and the delayed trains had begun to move both east and west, when some of them were caught by the new mishap, and a second blockade occurred, more serious than the first RAILROAD TRAINS RETURN. The west-bound limited and two other expresss trains which left here about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, came back here between 7 and 8 o'cleck and were sent west over the West Shere road. It seems impossible to get any particulars here this evening as to how had the reak is or how long it will take to repair it. Some of the trains hurrying to make up the lost time, narrowly escaped the cloud burst, but all did escape. One house was partially washed away, but no lives have been lost. There is no wire west of Amsterdam, and there is a rumor that the storm extended to Johnstown, la Fulton county.

AMSTERDAM CUT OFF. SARATOGA, N. Y., July 9.—Telephone peo-ple at Amsterdam state that a washout at Akin, N. Y., three miles west of there has torn up four hundred feet of the track and cut off communication with the west. Whether the washout was caused by the cloud-burst at Akin or by the branking of the dam at Johnsown, N. Y., as rumored, cannot be ascertained. Amsterdam reports an exceedingly heavy rain-storm in that section just before communication was cut off. Akin is on the New York central, and the creek which furnishes water power to several mills runs through the place.
TELEGRAPH WIRES DESTROYED.

New York, July 9.—Efforts to communicate with any point within the localities of Johnstown, N. Y., and Amsterdam, where Johnstown, N. Y., and Amsterdam, where rumors would lead to the impression that there has been a disaster of no small proportions, are unavailing, on account of the fact that the telegraph wires throughout that section have been destroyed. Some reports have reached here that a evelone caused the disaster, while a more serious character is given to the story by indefinite reports, and it is as yet unconfirmed that there has been a considerable loss of life.

CARRIED AWAY WITH THE BRIDGE. TROY, N. Y., July 9.-There are reports here that three big dams were washed away near Johnstown, and that crowds of people got on a bridge to watch the flood, and it was carried away and several people were drowned. Complete prestration of the wires makes it mpossible to communicate with Johnstown at the present hour, 10:30. Every effort is being made here to get definite information.

A telephone message from Johnstown says: The town is in total darkness. Nine bridges were washed away. The electric light plant has been washed away, also three skin mills at Gloversville. One body has been recovered. The water is three feet in the village of Fonda. THE REPORTER NOT HEARD FROM.

The reporter who started out on the 11 p. m. train from Albany, to get all the obtainable facts about the storm round-about Fonda and Johnstown, has not been heard from since Amsterdam, however, telephones that there are no trains west of that point, on account of the washout. POLITICAL FIGHT IN NASHVILLE. Christianity and Grand Armylsm at Stake for the Nashville Postoffice.

Nashville, Tenn., July 9.—[Special.]—
Never in Nashville's history has there been such a hot fight for any office as now rages over the Nashville postoffice. The three republicar congressmen have a promise that the man on whom they agree will be appointed, but they never will agree. It has now resolved itself into a fight of the Grand Army of the Republic against the Young Men's Christian association represented by Major A. W. Wills and T. M. Hurst respectively. It became known here to day that Hurst would have been appointed last Tuesday morning, had not the Wills forces secured the delay, and thereby hangs a tale.

Tuesday morning, Hon. Clay Evans went to see the postmaster-general. The conversation was opened by the inquiry if he and Houk and Taylor had agreed on a man for the Nashville postmastership. Mr. Evans replied that they had not, nor did he see ANY PROBABILITY OF AN AGREEMENT. "Well, I can make up my mind in ninute," said Mr. Wanamaker. "How?" asked Mr. Evans.

'I'll recommend Mr. Hurst," was the reply. "Then, Mr. Wanamaker, I'm done. I'll wash my hands of the entire matter," ejaculated the visitor, who abruptly took his departure. The same morning a dis-patch came here from Washington from a man who had been prominently antagonizing Hurst, which stated that the "fight was over, and that at noon the announcement of the appoint-ment of Hurst would be made." But between the conversation between Mr. Evans and Wanamaker and the hour of noon, the programme was changed, and Hurst's name was not bulletined.

THE MATTER WAS HUSHED UP some way summarily and was followed by the announcement that the appointment would not be made until July 17th

How was Wannamaker induced to withhold his recommendation? The G. A. R. influence now backing Wills secured the concession. Wills was given a final chance by Mr. Harrison eally his forces against it appears, is unque who, unquestionably the man who is proving the most dangerous, if not the only dangerous competitor of Wills. The Herald has cited the fa grand army men and members of the loyal egion have been very active in advocating Wills, and his victory over Hurst in having mmendation by the postmaster general withheld is ascribed to their influence.

Mr. Wills returned home after the delay was granted, and Hurst's record is to be subjected.

TO A CRUCIAL TEST in the hope of discovering something that will prejudice the department against him. The friends of Hurst do not appear to fear this on-slaught on their candidate. They say that an investigation, will strengthen rather than slaught on their candidate. staught on their cannatae. In yo say that an investigation will strengthen rather than weaken him. The situatiod, as now presented, means that this stubborn contest is at its climax. It is generally considered to be a struggle narrowed down to Wills and Hurst, and the friends of each are firm.

PELHAM SHOT DEAD.

The Marshal of Anniston Puts an End to Him. Anniston, Ala., July 9.-[Special.]-Cap tain of Police Stallings shot and instantly killed William Pelham about noon today, at the corner of Tenth and Noble streets. Pelham and Stallings had a difficulty Saturday. Pelham resisted arrest, and was struck several blows by the officer. Stallings was arraigned before the mayor this morning. Pelham failed to appear against him. Pelham.

WITH A DOUBLE DERRINGER wrapped up in a newspaper, met Stallings, in company with Officer Parsons, at the above time. Tearing the paper from the pistol, with the remark: "I have you now," he fired, the ball going through a book and some papers Stalling's pocket, producing a nipple. Officer Parsons then struck Pelham with his club, which stunned him, preventing a second fire. Recovering, he took

BEHIND A LARGE GOODS BOX and peeped over to get another shot, which he did without effect. Stallings, who had retreated to the middle of the street, fired, the ball taking effect under Pelham's eye, killing him instantly. Stallings is considered justifia-ble. Bill Polham was a brother of

THE GALLANT JOHN, of artillery fame, a native of this county, braver man and better soldier never lived. Pelham, in a difficulty last summer with F. A. Thornton in this city, was shot seven times. His surviving from this was attributed to his matchless nerve and will power. Pelham has been leading a reckless life for some time, and his best friends are not surprised at his sad fate. He has a wife and several interesting children in Atlanta. The remains will be sent to Alexandria his native place, for interment.

Mr. Pelham, the man who was shot, formerly lived in Atlanta. His wife and three or four children are now living on Capitol avenue. The directory gives William Pelham, a contractor, as residing at 282 Capitol avenue. FOR HIS FATHER'S BODY.

A Curlous Suit Heard in a Nashviile Court

Nashville, Tenn., July 9.4 [Special.]—A son suing for the possession of his father's cornse was the unusual lawsuit heard in Nashville today. Saturday, Stephen Bond, an aged negro, died suddenly in north Nashville, and Theo Kramer, deputy coroner and undertaker, was notified. After the inquest was concluded no one appeared to claim the remains, and Mr. Kramer took them to his establishment, embalmed and prepared them for burial.

Yesterday, Horace Bond went to Kramer's and identified the body as that of his father. Later in the day, Bond went to Priest & Dougherty's and arranged for that firm to bury his father's body. Priest & Dougherty sent to Kramer for the remains, but Kramer

REFUSED TO GIVE THEM UP until a charge of $5 for embalming was paid. Horace Bond claimed that he did not authorize this expense, but Kramer contended that at the time he embalmed the body it had not been identified, and the service was pernot been identified, and the service was per-formed to preserve it until friends could identify it. Bond got out a replevin writ, and today Justice Everate heard the case and gave the body to Bond. Justice Everate said that he knew of no law that gave an undertaker a lien on the body of a dead man for burial ex-penses. He said if the dead man had any penses. He said if the dead man had any estate he could collect it out of this, and if the son had promised to pay the amount Mr. Kramer could recover it by judgment. The son or nearest relative of the deceased was entitled to the possession of the bedy, however, and could direct the funeral without bindrance. hindrance.

RIOT IN MACON

OVER TWO REPORTED LYNCHINGS IN THE SWAMP.

THE BLACKS AND WHITES IN ARMS.

The Negroes Drag a White Man to the Swamp to Lynch Him-The Police Arrest Twenty-Three-Searching the Swamp. Macon, Ga., July 9 .- [Special.]-There was great excitement in Macon tonight over the reported lynching of a negro by white men, and a white man by negro men. Ida Smith is a beautiful brunette prostitute, ho recently made two attempts at suicide because her lover had jilted her. Her standing among the demi-mondes has been of the very best, but lately she has been drinking. Tonight two white men entered her house on Pine street, below Fourth, and FOUND A MULATTO, WILLIE SMITH, aged about eighteen years, lying on her bed. Though Id: says she was not at home at the time the white men felt outraged at the presence of a negro in the room and they gave him a severe beating, and his BLOOD DYED THE WALLS and floor of the room. They threw Smith out the window on the porch, where he laid a few moments in a semi-conscious condition. He then revived and effected his escape, going through the back yard of Lewis Lasitter's, and told Lasitter the white men were pur-suing him. Smith disappeared. The report soon circulated in that section that the white men had carried Smith TO THE SWAMP AND LYNCHED HIM. Crowds of negroes commenced to collect, talking excitedly, and one Frank McQuirten tried to incite them to riot. It was reported that they had caught a young white man on Pine street, who was thought to be one of the parties who had beat up Smith, and the negroes and lynched him. Intense excitement pre-vailed throughout the city. Mayor Price and a squad of policemen went in one direction, and Chief Kenan with policemen armed with Winchester rifles went in another direction. Mayor Price's squad fellowed about twenty minutes behind the negroes down Pine street to the swamp below the East Tennessee cotton yard, and the police were told that about seventy-five negroes had passed to the swamp. George Turner, switchman, said the white man had broke loose from the negroes and ran rapidly away. Mayor Price's they were coming out of the swamp and arrested thirty of them. Several got away and one escaping prisoner was fired at. The police succeeded in carrying twenty-three of them to the barracks by MARCHING ON LITTER SIDE with drawn pistoles At midnight parties are hunting the swamp with landerns to see if the white man's lynched body can be found Some believe the hanging occurred, but the majority is against this opinion. It is certain that the negro, Willie Smith, was not hanged.

The negro mob was very excited when the plice appeared, and they told conflicting stories. The impression seems to be that the mob believed the white men had CARRIED SMITH TO THE SWAMP' to lynch him and negroes followed in order to reseas Smith or kill his lynchers.

Ida Smith was arrested and carried to the barracks, but was released on ten dollars collateral. She claims that Smith did not cohabit THE COMPROMISE OFFERED.

Ex-Treasurer Adams Still Dickering with the City. Macon, Ga., July 9.-[Special.]-Alderman Wing inquired of the city council meeting to-night as to the prospect of a settlement of exevidence was required to complete the story of | Treasurer Adams with the city for the amount Burke's alleged connection with Dr. Cronin's of his defalcation, nearly $20,600. Chairman stated that a settle at fifty cents on the dollar, and he stated that he would recommend to the council a set-tlement on that basis, but Adams or his bondstlement on that basis, but Adams or his bondsmen had not, as yet, presented the proposition in definite shape; that Adams had sent parties to Themasville and other points to have certain papers signed, but nothing had been accomplished so far as Cox knew, and if a positive proposition of settlement was not in his possession by next Monday, he would wash his hands of the matter. This means that the city will not entertain the propessition of fifty cents on the dellar, but will sue the bondsmeu for the entire amount of the indebtedness. the indebtedness.

Caused the Wreck on the Pennsylvania Railread.

PITTSEURG, July 9 .- The freight wreck at Wilmerding, on the Pennsylvania railroad, which occurred last night, has not yet been cleared. Two bodies have been taken from the wreck, and it is thought six or eight more at least were killed. The trainmen estimate the list of dead and injured at fifteen. A tramp who escaped from the wreck said there were twenty-five people at least on the train. Of these but ten or twelve escaped. One of the injured is a colored man who is so badly hurt that he cannot recover. The train caught fire from a car load of whisky, which was ignited in some unknown manner. The accident was caused by a broken axie. Thirteen cars and the engine were totally wrecked.

Trying to Blow Up an Army.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 9.—At attempt was made before daylight yesterday morning to blow up with powder the building in the central part of the city in which the Salvation Army has established barracks. The explosion was heard throughout the city and the light from it caused the watchman in the city fire tower to turn in an alarm. A stone jug full of powder was placed in an aliey near the building and the fuse lighted. The building was badly damaged. The Salvation Army meetings have caused much complaint in the neighborhood of the barracks, and the explosion is regarded as a warning to the army. regarded as a warning to the army.

New Railroad Rates.

PHILADELPHIA, July 9,-A prominent offi cer of the Pennsylvania Railroad company said today, that on and after July 15th, rates on fron from seaboard towns west will be put on the same basis as now charged from the west to the east. At present the rate to the west for less than a car load is 30 cents per hundred cents, to weight, and for a car load or more twenty-five while the rate of the east is west to the east is twenty-five and twenty cents respectively. These new rates apply only to pig iron and covered by a special tariff, which will expire on August

The Peabody Teachers' institute will meet at Salt Springs on the 22d of this month. at Salt Springs on the 22d of this month, Judge Hook has arranged a most attractive programme, and has obtained over all the Georgia roads which are in the Southern Passenger association, (and these include nearly all the roads in the state) a rate of one full fare going and one-third the highest limited fare returning. Persons attending from points beyond the lines of the Georgia Pacific railway, should nurchesa tickate to Atlanta Austra.

beyond the lines of the Georgia Pacific railway, should purchase tickets to Atlanta, Austell, Savannah, Jesup or Albauy, as may be most convenient, and repurchase thence to Salt Sorings, taking certificates from all agents from whom tickets are purchased. The reduced rate is obtained on the return trip, as will be fully explained at the institute by the secretary.

The same rate is obtained for the colored teachers' department of the Peabody institute, which will meet in Augusta on the 17th of August. Those attending this session of the institute should purchase lickets the Augusta, if possible; otherwise, tickets should be purchased to Savannah, Albany, Macon, Athens or Atlanta, and thence repurchased to Augusta, certificates to be taken as above.

Superintendent Lawton B. Evans will give the colored teachers other necessary papers at Augusta to obtain reduced rates as they return.

from Professor Richard D. Willoughly, the pioneer miner scientist of Alaska. It was taken at Glacier Bay and represents a mysterious aerial city. The view is apparently taken from some spot on a hill. In the foreground is a gravel walk, a stone tence a rustic seat and a child at play. Beyond the stone wall are the roofs of houses with clumps of trees at the sides. In the distance are the half compile distorers of a cathedral and several tall pupile baildings, while far away, cuveloped in what appears to be a cloud like atmosphere, are tall smokestacks and towers of churches. The style of architectura is decidedly modern.

(a.) Whether a party may go behind the judgment of the ordinary and show that a majority of the freeholders did not sign the petition, or whether the judgment of the ordidinary may be collaterally attacked, are questiens not now decided.

(b.) While it may have appeared from the tax digest, which closed on the first of July, that only thirteen of the petitioners were freeholders up to that time; yet some of them may have become freeholders by the time the petition was signed, in November.

2. The failure to advertise the notice of the election for twenty days was a mere irregularity, and did not render the result of such election being given to all the yeters of the district.

McRae et al. vs. State. Assault with intent to murder, from Decatur. Criminal law. Intent. Verdict. Before Judgo Bower. Simmons, J.—1. When a man had an intent to commit a certain crime, and does not act concurrent with the intent sufficient to constitute a lesser bring of the same nature and tute a lesser crime of the same nature, and repents or desists from his first intention, he is repents or desists from his first intention, he is still indictable for the lesser offense. If, how ever, he abandoned his evil intention at any time before so much of the act was done as constitutes a crime, such abandonment takes from what has been done its indictable qualities. BITTEN BY A SNAKE.

THE ALLIANCEMEN OF RANDOLPH MAKING A RECORD.

The Middle Georgia Colt Show-Voodooism in Clarke-A Woman Burned to Death-A Remarkable Memory.

While Mike James, a boy fourteen years of Ige, was going through the woods, near Clarksville, with his father, one day last week, he said: "Father, if a snake was to bite me you just ought lo see how quickly I would bandage my leg with his rubber strap." The boy spoke positively, and no sooner were the words out of his mouth, he exblaimed: "I am snake bitten." His father, turn-ing round, saw his son drawing the bandage tightly around his leg just above the bite. The old man filled the snake and found it to be an adder of the most deadly kind. The administration of internal temedies at once commenced: First, one plug, then an old time twist of home made, went down like food; then one pint of corn whisky. All this made him very sick, and he vomited freely. He is yet unable to walk but is rapidly recovering.

Recently the alliance of Randolph county. passed resolutions boycotting any or all the mer-thants of Cuthbert, provided they sold or exposed for This is a step a little ahead of any other county This is a step a little ahead of any other county alliance in the state. The merchants of the place have been disposed to respect the wishes of the Organization and none of them would give orders for the jute. A prominent wholesale house of Montgomery after vainly trying to sell bagging to an established trade decided to ship early in the season two thousands rolls of jute bagging to Cuthbert, and employ a man to sell the same for them. Since them Mr. Isaac Easly, an old and reliable grocery man, has decided to sell that kind of bagging. He will stem the storm alone and it remains to be seen will stem the storm alone and it remains to be seen what will be the results. On the heel of this decision of Mr. Easly the alliance were in session on Saturday, and went a step further. They now a declare, they will not buy if possible to prevent it any corn, sait, oats, notice or any other goods wrapped in jute tacks or any goods tied with jute twine. The alliance of Randolph county is certainly making a reputation In their war against the trust. Mr. Easly has the nerve to stand when he forms a resolution and the

The ground for the Middle Georgia colt The ground for the Middle Georgia colt how has been purchased of Mr. John Orr. The fifteen acres were bought for fifty dollars per acre, and the tract lies just within the incorporate limits, to south of Madison. A new street will be opened through the land recently bought by the Madison Real Estate company, thus affording a good entrance to the ground. With these improvements, real estate in that vicinity will boom. The fair is booming and promises to be a grand success.

On Sunday before last, a crazy negro woman, in the neighborhood of Mr. Dave Gann's plantation near Athens, went to a negro church in that vicin-lty, and harangued the congregation for some time, and at the conclusion of her incoherent talk, told her heare is that she would bid them good-bye, as she would die on the following Tuesday. She then went into a kind of trance, and remained in that condition for several hours. Her prediction in re-gard to her death failed. The negroes in that ighborhood broke into the house of a negro Monday night, saying he and another negro had been in the woods gathering material for conjuring other negroes in the settlement. He bitterly de-nied the charge. There is much excitement among the negroes in that settlement in regard to the

A NOVEL CASE.

Mrs. Seymour's Application for Administration on Her Husband's Estate.

JEFFERSON, Ga., July 9.-[Special.]-The Herald says that the case of the heirs of Elihu Seymour vs. Delilah Seymour was called in the court of ordinary, but owing to the absence of important witnesses was postponed. This suit arises from the application of Mrs. Delilah Seymour for letters of administration upon the estate of her husband, who died some onths ago at the age of 91. The 'heirs will attempt to invalidate the marriage, which occurred four years ago, on the ground that Sev-Into a marriage contract. If the marriage is proved valid, Mrs. Seymour will be entitled to the administration of the estate, twelve months' support, and one-fifth the property, which amounts to $3,000. This is the first case of the kind that has arisen in this county for many years.

Seymour was the widow of Dr. Venable, of Jonesboro. The couple had to leave home to get married, so pronounced was the opposition of their children. They are both ghly connected, and the case will attract great attention.

The Directors of the Augusta Exposition

Sued On Notes.

Augusta, Ga., July 9.—[Special.]—A suit has been filed by Mr. Ferdinand Phinizy, of has been filed by Mr. Ferdinand Phinizy, of Athens, againt thirteen of the directors of the Augusta Exposition company, which brings out the fact that there are differences among the members of the board. It seems that in order to complete the exposition buildings and the expenses of getting ready for the exposition, it was necessary for the company to borrow $40,000. It was proposed for the directors to indorse the company a note. Ten of them declined to indorse, but instead lent the company $2,000 each, making $20,000 of the $40,000 needed. Fourteen of the remainthe $40,000 needed. Fourteen of the remaining directors signed the note for $20,000, and the $40,000 needed. Fourteen of the remaining directors signed the note for $20,000, and the leans were secured by a mertgage on the exposition property. After the exposition, when it was desired to issue bonds, the secured obligations of the company had to be taken up, and the ten directors surrendered their notes against the company with the promise they should receive bonds for them when issued. The note of the company for $20,000 was taken up by the fourteen directors, who raised the money by giving their two individual notes for $10,000 each.

One of these has fallen due and gone to protest, and en it Mr. Ferdinand Phinizy brings sait for $10,000 against the fourteen directors, jointly and individually. From the statements made today by President Tobia and one of the fourteen directors sued, it appears that a difference among the members of the board as to the amount of their liability is the cause of the notice given to the president, which, of course will be paid.

to the amount of their liability is the cause of the notice given to the president, which, of course, will be paid. Some of the directors are poor men. They were not chosen for their means, but to popularize the enterprize with all classes. Of the fourteen who signed the $20,000 note, not more than eight, perhaps, are able to pay $2,000. These are ready to pay this amount, and equalize them-selves with the other ten, Then they want the other ten to come in with them and share equally the remainder of the $20,000 thare equally the remainder of the $20,000 lebt, after all were on an equal footing, of $2,000 each. The ten who paid the $2,000 refused this proposition, and claim that the signers of the notes are alone responsible, and that if only four or five of them have to meet it they must do so unaided. As soon as this little difference is settled the notes will be paid. The signers are entirely good for it.

SCHOOLS IN DECATUR.

The Presbyterians to Establish an Institute for Girls.

DECATUR, Ga., July 9.—[Special.]—During he last seventeen years Decatur has had a emale school in addition to the regular male add female school taught in the academy. The female school has, at different times, been a charge of Miss Dollie Anderson, Mrs. Ulen and Miss Kate Hillyer. During the ast three years it has been taught by Miss in charge of Miss Dollie Anderson, Mrs. Allen and Miss Kate Hillyer. During the last three years it has been taught by Miss Hillyer, who has lately been elected to a position in the public schools in Atlanta, and the question now is, who will open a female school to take the place of the one Miss Hillyer has just given up? This question is in a fair way of being settled by a number of leading citizens who are making efforts to organize and establish a "Presbyterian Female institute." This school is not to be, as the name night imply, sectarian, any more than the female school has heretofore been, which was at different times taught by the members of the Methodist, Episcopal and Baptist church. Neither will it be antagonistic to the present public school taught in the academy any more than the other female school has been. It will be a "Presbyterian institute," because it will be a crganized, controlled, and to a large extent supported by members of the Presbyterian church. Rev. F. H. Gaines, paster of the Presbyterian church, is one of the leading spirits in its organization, and he says it will be in charge of the very best teachers and that it will be complete in all its departments, and will be a school that every citizen of Decatur will be proud of.

will be a school that every citizen of Decatur will be proud of.

DECATUR'S MUSICAL TALENT.

There is no place of its size in Georgia that can boast of more and better musical talent than there is in Decatur. Last week several es and young men met at the resi young tadies and young men me at the residence of Mrs. Harper, on Railroad avenue, and organized a musical club. Miss Mamie Haygood was unanimously chosen president, Miss Arlina Barnard vice-president and Mr. A. B. Green secretary and treasurer. The club will meet at the residence of some members every Friday night.

Sterling Roberts at Home. SPARTA, Ga., July 9.-[Special.]-We note with pleasure the return of Mr. Sterling W. Roberts from his late excursion with the Geor-gia weekly press, and from his improved apearance would venture to say he had fared most sumptuously. He now sports an elegant gold-headed cane which explains itself through gold-headed cane which explains itself through those words engraved thereon: On one side "S. W. Roberts," on the other "Georgia Weekly Press association," and on the end of the handle "July 4th, 1859." That a newspaper man out on a summer jaunt with the brethren of his guild should be unexpectedly "caned" in this style deserves at least newspaper mention. As a token of the appreciation by this association of his valuable services as secretary of their body it will be always prized by "Sterling." The only question now is who by "Sterling." The only question now is who will get his old stick?

The Barbecue at Farmington. The Barbecue at Farmington.

Madison, Ga., July 9.—[Special.]—A large crowd of Madisonians went over to Farmington, Oconec county, to attend a grand barbecue at Price's park. The Covington and Macon ran a special train, leaving here at 8:30 a. m. and returning at 7:30 p. m. The following gentlemen delivered addresses at Farmington today: Hon. F. G. DuBignon, Hon. H. H. Carlton, Hon. J. H. Blount, Colonel E. W. Butler.

A Colored Preacher Convicted. A Colored Preacher Convicted.

COLUMBUS, Ga., July 9—[Special.]—Rev.
W. S. Ramsey, colored, was convicted in the city court today for assaulting Deacon Abner Webb. Ramsey was fined one hundred dellars and costs. A few old members of the Ramsey's flock took up a collection, paid the fine and left the ceurt house in triumph with their pastor. The trial created intense-excitement among the negrocs,

Looking for Electricity.

Looking for Electricity.

Maddson, Ga., July 9.—[Special.]—Madison is thinking seriously of putting in an electric plant, and have the city lighted by electricity. The Gate City Oil company will have their ginnery lighted by electricity, and the same company has made the city a proposition, but which has not yet been accepted. The city council met this morning to conclude to get prices and bids from other companies before deciding.

A Poor Return.

ALBANY, Ga., July 9.—[Special.]—One of our largest melon raisers is pretty blue today. For one of his finest carloads, shipped to Chattanooga, he received this afternoon the pitiful sum of $1.80. They sell here for over a hundred dollars per carload on the track at farms.

MACON'S STREET RAILWAYS PASS UNDER CONTROL OF MILLION-

The Nashville Purchasers Dispose of Their Claim to the Philadelphia Millionaire-The Price Paid.

Macon, Ga., July 9.-[Special.]-Two weeks ago in the city of Nashville Major William M. Duncan, a capitalist and president of several street railway, coal and electric light companies, purchased the Macon street railway of Major John H. Brandsford, of Nashville the sole owner of the road.

Sunday night Major William Duncan, in company with his uncle, Dr. Fox, of Atlanta, came to Macon to make a thorough inspection of the road to see what improvements are needed, and also to try and interest Macon parties with him in the line, but, after trying yesterday and failing to get persons of this city identified with the road, he concluded to sell it, as he did not care to have such a large sum invested and he residing in Nashville, without some one here to protect his interests.

Majer Duncan had learned in Nashville that Mr. George Work, the twenty times millionaire, of Philadelphia, and recent purchaser of the Macon Gas Light and Water company, also desires to buy the Macon street railway, so when Major Dancan learned that Macon parties would not become identified with him in the road, he commenced to confer with Mr. Henry Horne, of Macon, Mr. Work's agent here, with a view of selling the road to Mr. Work. Telegrams flew thick and fast to day between Macon and Philadelphia, and this afternoon a trade was effected between Duncan and Work, and the latter became the purchaser at a sum in the neighborhood of $60,000. It is understood that Millionaire Work will make decided improvements in the road, and it is not improbable that the road may be operated by electricity or dummy in the future. It is thought that the dummy line owners may have also sold out to Millionaire Work, or have some understanding with him. This is mere conjecture, however.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Macon Guards Hold an Enthusiastic Meeting.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

They Have a Lengthy Session and Discuss

Macon, Ga., July 9.—[Special.]—The county commissioners of Bibb met today and remained in session longer than usual. They were discussing roads and the much discussed boulevard proposed to be built from Jefferson street to Crump's park parallel to the main Vineville road.

The commission highly favor the opening of the road and have referred the matter to the three road commissioners of the Vineville district, and if they report the road practicable trict, and if they report the road practicable trict, and if they report the road practicable the county commissioners will order the roat to be opened and condemn all property under the law, through which the road will pass Then will come a stout legal contest.

The commissioners, by a vote of four to one, refused to move the dummy line from the middle of the Vineville road to one side of it. This also has been a much-discussed subject.

The commissioners decided that the main

The commissioners decided that the mai Vineville road in future shall be known Vineville avenue, and the two small side road will be called Avenue 1 and Avenue 2.

Trouble at the Ore Mines.

LAFAYETTE, Ga. July 9,—[Special.]—At the ore mines, about three miles from this place, there has been organized a Knights of Labor club, which has caused some little excitement. Those who were the leading spirits in it threatenced to drive all the hands who would not join, from the place. Whereupon the contractors discharged those making the threats. It was thought at first that it would cause some disturbance, but at present everything is "calm and screne."

CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Mary Cecilia Brunold

Has just been cured of the worst Eczema ever seen by the doctors who treated her. From head to feet a mass of diseased skin. Several physicians, a medical col-lege, and all remedies fail. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My little daughter, Mary Cecilia Brunold, wa My little daughter, Mary Ceellia Brunold, was afflicted with the worst case of eezema ever seen by the dectors who treated her. She was literally covered from head to foot with scabs. These physicalis tried their best to care her, but I believe they were only experimenting. They kept on experimenting for over ten months, but Instead of getting better the child got worse, and I did not know what course to pursue. My wife took her, after we had p.id all we could afford for medical treatment, to a medical college where some twenty or thirty doctors assembled, but the case hadled them all. My wife had to go every day, and sometimes twice a day. In fact, the medicine they gave my child did not have time to act, even if there was any virtue in it, it was changed so often by crears of the doctors. The latter part of January, after everything had failed, and patience and money were both exhausted, I made up my mind to quit all doctoring and try, the COTICHEA REMIDIES. I did so, and now I can say that my daughter is cired, sound in health and well, to the surprise of hundreds.

THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION SENT TO ANY ADDRESS I

ATLANTA, GA., JULY 10, 1889.

Sullivan and Other Strong Men. Just now John L. Sullivan is the proudest man that steps on this continent. His magnificent brute strength has carried him triumphantly through a severe ordeal, and he firmly believes that in a physical sense he stands without a peer. It is well while Mr. Sullivan occupies such a large share of pubattention, to consider this matter of physical culture: The strong men whose feats astonish the world are not as a rule long-lived. Heenan died of consumption and Morrissey lost his vitality in middle life. The famous Boston athlete who trained himself up to a point where he could lift a barrel of flour with one hand went into a rapid decline.

In one of his novels Willie Collins describes a young man who gave himself up to athletic sports. Apparently this young fellow was a marvel of strength and endur ance. Suddenly, without any warning, this splendid brute collapsed. A shock of paralysis made him an utter wreck, mentally and bodily. Some such fate is perhaps in store for Bullivan. Other men with a tenth part of his strength will reach old age and enjoy life, but the chances are that the vanquisher of Kilrain will not live to see his fortieth birthday. His powers have been unduly developed. He is a victim of over training. and is liable to break down suddenly at any

There is comfort in all this for the average man. It is pleasant to think that these giants who are able to knock men down like so many ten pins do not have it all their own way.

The advocates of physical culture will do well to study the lives of some of our great athletes. The lesson taught by them all is that there is danger of overdoing the thing when an attempt is made to acquire an unnatural degree of strength. We do not need giants these days, and we do not need Sullivans.

A Miser's Maxims.

The late William Hilton, of Franklin, Ky., devoted his whole life to moneymaking, and burned his entire fortune while on his deathbed to keep it from falling into the hands of his family.

Mr. Hilton left a notebook behind him containing his business maxims. Some of his rules are a queer mixture of sense and selfishness. He advised young men to read the Bible in order to understand human nature. He justified lying when it would save a difficulty. Here are a few of his

Hilton did not find it difficult to make money, but he got very little satisfaction out of his fortune. When death stared him in the face he could not think of a single human being or a single object that he was willing to have benefited by his money. He could not take it with him to another world, and he could not make up his mind to leave it. So he converted his property into bank notes and threw the whole business into the fire. Viewed from his own standpoint, this man's life was a success; but it must take a very devoted worshiper of the almighty dollar to desire success at such a price. Hilton will hardly be held up to posterity as a model business man. Such wisdom as he displayed was the worst of folly in the end.

The Farmer and His Profits.

The New York Times figures it out that the average farmer's income is fully thirty per cent of his capital.

Suppose, says the Times, that a farmer should move to the city. He would have to spend twenty per cent of the value of his farm in household expenses in order to secure all the comforts of his old life in his new home. Then, there is another thing to be considered. The farmer works less than the average business man. He has more freedom, and it is easier for him to take a day off than it is for the city toiler. The risk of loss in farming is smaller than it is in almost any line of business in the city. This encouraging view of the farmer's profits is fully sustained by the facts of the case. The small farmer, for instance, the man who has from three to five thousand dollars invested in land, stock and implements, will get a better living out of his property than a merchant with the same capital. The fact that when farmers borrow money or buy supplies on time they pay a bigger interest than any other class of people shows that, however much they grumble, their work is profitable beyond many other lines of industry.

Many farmers think that they get a very poor return for their labor because they do not accumulate money. This is not the way to look at it. When a man with only a few thousand dollars, makes a first-class living for his family, without running much of a risk, he is doing well, and this isprecisely what the average farmer is doing.

A Pretty Quarrel. The Jacksonville Times-Union and the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette are engaged in a curious quarrel over the question whether the people or the political leaders were responsible for secession. The Cincinnati paper says the leaders misled the people, and the Jacksonville paper says the masses were as hot for secession as the leaders. But, after all, what difference does it make? We read that all Gaul was divided into three parts, but it wouldn't make any difference now if it had been divided into thirty-three parts. The secret of whatever division there was in the south just before the war may be stated very briefly. There was no difference as to the belief in the right of secession. Every man, woman and child in the south had been educated in that belief. Everybody thought that a sovereign state had a right to secede. Those who opposed secession did so on the grounds of policy, based on a genuine love for the union. The union sentiment was very strong in Georgia, and some of the most influential men were opposed to secession. Benjamin H. Hill, Herschel V. Johnson, Alexander II. Stephens were opposed to secession, but none of them ubted the right of a state to secede.

It was the belief of the whole south until the result showed that those who advised against it on the grounds of policy and love for the union were right.

Thomas Jefferson.

The New York Sun says that the Harlem democratic club, at its celebration of the Fourth of July, adopted resolutions in favor of erecting a statue of Thomas Jefferson in New York City.

The Sun further says that the people of New York will furnish the means needed for carrying out this project.

It is to be hoped that the Sun knows what it is talking about, for the people of New York are not in the habit of building monuments to anybody. The monstrosity known as the Statue of Liberty was planted in New York bay by a national subscription, and the projected Grant memorial is still in the air.

Thomas Jefferson needs no statue or memorial of any kind to perpetuate his memory, for that will remain a precious possession while a love of liberty endures on the face of the earth. At the same time. a statue of this great man ought to loom up in the metropolis of the republic which he helped to create.

If the people of New York appreciate the opportunity they will hasten to make the Sun's prediction true. The republic cannot have too much of Thomas Jefferson's mem ory and his doctrines. In the results of his statesmanship lies the hope of this country.

The Chantauqua Opening. The second session of the Piedmont Chau-tauqua opens today.

The catlook for a brilliant session is most favorable. The programme which the managers have prepared is one of rare excellence embracing as it does the summer college, in charge of some of the most eminent instrucof the land, and in addition to this literary and musical features, which will of themselves be rare treats.

Everything will be of the best. With the instructors, lecturers and musicians en-gaged, this session of the Piedment Chautauaa will doubtless be the equal of any ever held in the country. It furnishes a rare opportunity to the people of Georgia-one of which they will doubtless avail themselves.

Surely at no place could the summer months be spent more pleasantly or profitably than at Piedmont Chautauqua.

In 1822 Julia Planton had a footstove patented. Of later years the entires in the patent office at Washington have been annual. In the period between 1800 and 1855 precisely fifty patents were granted to women. They are all embraced in one page of the record. But in the year 1868 the entries fill a full page, and by 1873 three pages. The first native patentee whose address is recorded is Agdalena S. Goodman, of Duval county, Florida, in 1859, for an improvement in broom brushes. Up to the outbreak of the civil war she and one other were the only southern women who had thus distinguished themselyes, During the same period. New York had furnished fourteen, Massachusetts four, Ohio two, Maine, Connecticut, Indiana and New Jersey one each. These patents are by no means confined to the domestic arts and conveniences, or to the hyglene and adornment of the female sex. In 1864 Mary Jane Moutgomery, of New York, brought forward her improved war vessel. In the same year a young woman from Michigan introduced the improved lantern dinner pail. Miss Montgomery also devised an improvement in locomotive wheels, and she has many associates in rallway inventions, even to an apparatus for destroying vegetation on railreads. EDITORS CONSTITUTION: In your issue of the 8th you publish a communication from your Lawrenceville correspondent in relation to commissioners of this county, that I think needs a reply. In relation to the recommendations of grand juries being disregarded I have nothing to say except that I do not recollect any that has been disregarded. I am certain that all of their recommendations have had due consideration by the board. If the public knew the inwardness of this matter they would be surprised at your correspondent's effrontery. Sufsurprised at your correspondent's effrontery. Suffice it to say that he is the monthplece of a few malcontents. I admit that the well was out of fix and had been for some time. No appeal was ever made to me to have It cleaned out nor did I ever hear from any one a complaint that it was not done. Senator Jones has a right to be the champion of the bill if he wishes to. I am satisfied [that he was misled in the first place in the recommendations at the March term of our court. I have nothing but the best of feelings for him. One of the representatives, Hon. George Clement, was chairman of the committee, October term superfor court, to examine into the management of county matters and if I mistake not gave me a very flatering report.

I challenge your correspondent to show in an matter, where I have not acted to the best interest of the county. I point with pride to my manage. ment of county affairs, when I say that since July hence of county shairs, which I say that since July 1884, the county has paid out in building new courthouse, new jail and pauper farm, and permanent improvements $35,887, besides keeping up current expenses and have not taxed the county in excess 5.7-10 mills in two years and two others under 4.6-10 mills. In conclusion: If the county desires to do away with the commissioners, let it be done. done. At the same time I do not desire your cor-respondent to make the scape-goat of me. They could not beat me out before the people—they will legislate me out. I dislike very much to be drawn nto this controversy but your correspondent's arti cle is so out of place I could not let it pass. Thank

Rome, Ga., July 6.—Editors Constitution:
On April 28th there appeared in The Constitution an extract, from the public records of Fulton county, which savored so much of blackmail, involving my character, that I was disposed to complain because you published it without affording an opportunity of statement from me. With my old friends in Griffin and my acquaintances of long standing elsewhere, I leit no insecurity from the assult but it was natural that my new friends and acquaintances. n Rome, where I have resided but a short time should besitate and question in the face of suc charges, and on the account of this alone. As to the conspiracy—I do not know that I had poken to, or in any way communicated with, Mr. diekelberry within thirry days prior to the time he hade the purchase of Snider. I did not speak to or afterwise communicate with him within five hours after the purchase was nade.

As to the facts—The first time I saw Mickeblery after the purchase from Snider was about 10 o'clock at night. He was then nided by Mr. Goorge Jones, a friend of his, and Mr. R. F. Strickland, a merat night. He was then aided by Mr. Goorge Jones, a friend of his, and Mr. R. F. Strickland, a merchant, taking an approximate inventory of the goods. The taking of the inventory was then well solvaned, and was soon thereafter cone uded. Nothing was said that night with reference to how Mr. Mickleberry intended to dispose of the goods further than that he had bought them without given the matter much thought, and as he had not time to retail them, he would like to wholesale them, and suggested that J. C. King, R. T. Strickland and Bass Bros. would do well to buy them to gether, so to at they might not fail into the hands of some one who might denoralize the business of that end of the town by retailing them at reduced prices. I did not again see Mr. Mickelbery until cetween 8 and 9 o'clock the next day, when he approached me and asked me if I could be persuaded to buy the Sniderst ck of goods and to go and take a look at them. When I reached the store Mr. Snider was there, with whom I conferred with reference to the condition of the stock and his idea or information as to what might be the footings of a careful inventory thereof. I afterwards told Mr. Mickelbery what issue Bros. would give for the property—an amount which I considered its full value—and returned to my store. An hour or more later, Mr. Mickelbery again approached me and stated that he had tried to sell to King and to Strickland, and to other merchants, but that my bid had not been praised, and that he had decided to ace get

After concluding the purchase I conferred with my brother and determined whether we would move the goods to our store or sell them in the Sinder building. An hour later we began to move the goods to our store, which, instead of being at a late hour at night, was between 12 and 1 o'clock in the daytine, and under the direct rays of the greatest luminary of the solar system. At that time I supposed Mr. Snider to be worth at least $15,000 above his liabilities—that he felt that he made a good trade for himself with Mr. Mickelbery—that he was and always had been of a perfectly sound mind, and that he was abundantly capable of protecting his interest in a business negotation with Mckelbery or anybody else, and I saw nothing in Mickelbery's actions that indicated that his opinions of Snider differed from my own. What I do know is that Bass Bros, gave the lat tollar for the property that they felt that it was worth to them, and that they realized a smaller margin on it than they have obtained on many other large transactions. After concluding the purchase I conferred with My brother, H. H. Bass, of Griffin, had no personal connection whatever with the trades, either with Snider or Micke, bery.

When the suit comes to trial the foregoing will be failly corroborated by undisputable testimony, and it has been a source of much wonder by those acquainted with the facts why Bass Bros, were broug, tinto the case of E. L. Snider vs. Mickelbery & Lewis. Our attorneys tell us that it was dene in order to bring the case within the purisdict on of Spaiding superior court to relieve the plaintiff of the inconvenience and expense of bringing action in Fulton county, and it would seem that the hypothesis is substantiated by the fact that he has now carried the case to Fulton county, since, if it had been continued in Spaiding county much longer he would have been barred by the statute against suit against Mickelbery & Lewis in Fulton county, which result was fun ortant to him only in the event that Bass Bros, should not be found liable in the suit in Spaiding.

IN AND ABOUT ATLANTA. NEWS OF INTEREST GATHERED

FROM ALL BOURCES. An Important Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was Held Yesterday—That Butler-Street Bridge Matter—Other Local Happenin s.

The chamber of commerce held an important eeting yesterday morning, at which a large number of members were present. President Oglesby called the body to order, and by way of explanation, stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of considering a number of important questions, the most vital matter being the reduction of the initiation fee as a means of increasing the membership roll.

He strongly urged that some action tending to that end should be taken, and recommended the adoption of the following resolution, which had been prepared by the board of directors.

The resolution reads:
Resolved, That section 1, of article 8, of the by-laws, making admission to membership in the At-lanta chamber of commerce 8100 be withdrawn un-til December 21st next, and that until that date tha initiation fee for membership in this organization shall be $20, and that on and after said date, uamely, December 31st, 1889, said section 1 of article 8, of said by-laws, is re-instated, and shall thereafter bd

Dr. R. D. Spalding, in a few well chosen remarks, moved the adoption of the resolution, urging the advisability of increasing the membership of the organization. Some little discussion was had among the members on the resolution before it was finally adopted, which was unanimously.

Mr. E. W. Martin made a short talk on the subject. He desired to have the members fully understand the great benefits and 'privileges which they were about to confer upon new applicants for membership at the reduced entrance fee before action was taken. He did not offer any opposition. but said, that as the organization had now reached a solid and paying financial basis, through the efforts of the projection of the enterprise, his pinion was that the fee should be raised instead of lowered. He thought it would be over liberal to allow others to come in, and have the same property interest as the old members, without having paid at least a proportionate sum.

The certificates of the association have an ctual value of $200 each, clear of all encumbrance or debts. In view of this it looks as though those who are fortunate enough to secure membership at $20, will actually be getting more than their money's worth, besides the inestimable benefits of the organization.

and the larger the membership the greater will be its capacity for good.
Only a limited number of new members will be admitted at the $20 rate. The organization now numbers 137, and as soon as a total of 350 are obtained, the provisions of the above resolution will be cancelled.

A resolution was adopted requesting the board of directors to select such persons, firms and corporations in the city, as in their judgment would be desirable accessions numbers of the chumber of commerce.

It is probable that the full number of members will be obtained in a very short time. A great many people who would be benefited by the organization, and also a benefit to it, are not acquainted with its objects and privileges, but with the invitation to become members a circular will be suct out explaining the workings of the association. This will be a great aid in obtaining the desired increase in the roll.

BUTLER STREET BRIDGE. How the Mattter Stands Between the Rallroad Company and the City.

Recently the railroad bridge across Butler street has been attracting quite a good deal of attention among members of the city council, and on Monday last the mayor and street committee, to whom the matter had been referred, paid a visit to the bridge.

The object of the visit was to ascertain the exact condition of the work, and to put a stop to it if it was deemed advisable.

At a merting of the street committee in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon, the matter was fully discussed, but nothing definite was lecided upon, further than the indersement of the action of Mayor Glenn and the commissioner of public works, in ordering the work of repairing the bridge discentinued until some satisfactory arrangemet could be made. The controversy about the bridge grows out of the fact that the Georgia railroad company has a track laid on an extension of the which occupies ground not included in the right-of-way. The history of this extension of the bridge on the city's property dates back to the early part of '84. At that time the front work on the new capitel building was done. In order to prosecute the work of tearing down the old city hall and milding the new capitol, it was necessary to have railroad sidetrack facilities on the grounds. Permission was granted the Georgia railroad company to lay their tracks to the ground, and across Hunter street. Permission was also given the company to build an extension to ing of its track to the capitol grounds. The capitol has been finished, the side track taken up, but the bridge which occupies the city grounds has not been removed. This is the cause of the controversy.

The railroad company desires to continue using the bridge, but the city officials are not willing for the present structure to remain. The bridge is built of wood, and in no way an rnament to the street.

While the railroad company has the right to naintain a wooden bridge on its own right-ofmaintain a wooden bridge on its own right-of-way, the city insists that it shall not build that sort of a structure on her property, and unless the railroad consents to put up an iron bridge, it will not be allowed to use that part of the

The discussion was precipitated by the repairing of the bridge by the railroad, the city refusing to allow its part of the structure to be Even if the railroad company should agree to erect a new iren bridge, it is not absolutely certain that the city would grant the extended right-of-way, as there are other questions in-

THE STATE ROAD

PURNISHES THE SUBJECT FOR HEATED DISCUSSION.

The Whole Matter Goes Back to the Committe After a Good Deal of Time is Devoted to Talk Over the Matter-Other Legislative Matters.

The house galleries were filled yesterday for the first time since the opening of the session. A noticably large number of ladies were present. The right wing of the gallery—set apart for the colored people—was crowded.

Dr. Felton spoke, and several other distinguished members took an active part in the day's discussion over the Western and Atlan-tic bill. The Constitution of yesterday out-lined pretty accurately the course of proceedings and final result.

From a practical stand point the day was wasted—thrown away. The wasting process was decidely intertesting, however, and the gallery spectators were in ino wise disappointed.

The fight was between Dr. Felton and Chairman Rankin, of the Western and Atlantic committe, on the one side, and Messrs. Candler, of DeKalb; Simmons, of Sumter; Patterson, of Bibb; Lamar, of Richmond; Glenn, of Whit-field; and Huff, off Bibb; on the other side.

How IT CAME UP.

Chairman Rankin submitted to the house yesterday morning the report of the W. A. committee. The committee simply asked of the house that "the entire Western and Atlantic railroad question be recommitted to this committee for the purpose of perfecting this lease act to be reported back to the house, this with the understanding that we report back the perfected act within the next two weeks.

As soon as the clerk had finished the reading of the report Mr. Rankin obtained the floor. "I have submitted that," said he, "on be-half of the committee. I now submit, on my individual behalf, this amendment to the re-

The amendment read as follows:

Resolved. That it is the sense of the house that no mendment should be made to the bill authorizing the lease of the road that contemplates restricting bids for said road to non-competitive corporations, but that the right to bid for the lease of said road shall be open and free to sail companies, corporations, individuals or combinations of companies, corporations or individuals, whether owning open-corporations or individuals, whether owning, oper-mains or controlling competitive lines or net, and the committee is requested to observe this expression of the sense of this body.

Resolved, That, in the opinion of the house, the question of claim for pay for betterments by the present lessees is separate and distinct from, and should not be connected with or control in the per-fecting of a bill for the lease of the road, nor should its consideration encumber the house in the prepa-ration of such bill to lease, and the committee is so instructed.

"Now," said Chairman Rankin, "I have yielded to the request of the committee in re committing the entire matter to them. I am free to state that so far as my personal preference is concerned I would like to see this matter settled by a vote-right here and right

Dr. Feiton called for the reading of the original bill and the substitute,

"I have only a few words," said Dr. Felton, after the clerk had finished reading, "to say upon this subject, 'why not allow the committee to attend to this business?' we are The answer is that the matter has been in the hands of the committee for a long time. We have discussed and argu-ed it, substituted and amended. Now that the question of sale or lease has been decided in favor of the lease, believe that the bill is in shape to be handled by the house. Let the house make what changes are needed in the lease bill. It is a fact worth remembering that these gentlemen of the committee, so anxious now to have that favored the sale of the road at the last session. Now they want time to perfect a lease bill. Why, I ask them, has this change come in the color of their dreams? Six months ago they favored the sale—now their concern is to have time to shape and color the lease bill. I bez you, gentlemen of the house, if you recommit this bill, do so with the restrictions asked for. I was present yesterday at the committee meeting when that report was agreed upon, and I intended then to abide I have thought over the seriously since, and I have come to the conclusion that my oath of office should be the first consideration, and that prompts nie to oppose this recommittal. The of those in favor of the sale has been 'Let us advertise!' but I hoped that I had heard this cry for the last time. Its object was to impede and incumber, and these same men now want the hill recommitted. What object has this but to impede and incumber? Look at the names attached to the majority report in favor of the sale and the minority report in favor of the lease. You will agree with me then that to recommit the bill is to leave it in uncertain and unreliable hands. After all their work, look at this mongrel-breed, Janusfaced product of their labor, this two-sided report. But the popular sentiment against the lease has been recognized and the proposition to sell is practically withdrawn. I hoped that the question. was then in shape to be settled finally, in the fix that Brer Rabbit told Brer Fox he had the horse-where he fcouldn't move anyway. I warn you, gentlemen, that a mere lease is not all that the popular sentiment demands. A lease can be made to pave the way for a sale of the road, and the old song, 'Let us advertise,' has given place to the new song, 'Pre-ferred bidders, these that wish to buy.' Governor Brown, who knows more about the Western and Atlantic railroad than any other man living, says that the people would hurl from power any legislature that would sell or Comstock mines of Nevada

"The famous Comstock mines of Nevada were bought for a pony and a barrel of whisky. The first samples of that wondorful ore were thrown away as worthless. The first owner was bothered because it clogged in his troughs. "Throw it away!" That's the advice of this faction of the committee—"throw it away!" I am glad to see the unanimity with which the people of the tate have repediated his doctrine. That the unanimity with which the people of the state have repudiated this doctrine. That committee is your creature. You made it, and you have a right to impose these restrictions. If you want to re-enact the Bulleck scandals of twenty years ago, disqualify railroad corporations from bidding, and make a handful of men in Atlanta, and along the line of the road, the sole bidders. I have proof positive that a strong effort will be made to keep the rental at $5,000. Already the company is being organized to gobble up the road, and all they want now is to see railroads barred from bidding.

Keep this matter in your hands, and if the ill needs amendment, amend it yourselves, suppose that committee incorporates the mo-opely clause and shuts out from bidding every railread in the United States. How many bidders would there be? Our duty is to lease the road for the best price possible, no matter to whom or what the road is leased. Let every to whom or what the road is leased. Let overybody bid, and if the matter is recommitted, let it be with instructions to that effect. You remember the history of the present lease. The bill became a law hate Saturday afternoon, and to cut off competition the lease was confirmed before the ink was dry on the new act. The lease was for $25,000, and equally responsible persons were there waiting to offer $35,000. Let us be open and pronounced, throw open the competition to all men and to all corporations, and get the best possible price for the road."

followed IDr. Felton. He wanted it understood that the committee had agreed upon a report, and the report asked simply for a remmittal to perfect the lease act.

"Notice," said he, "that not one word is said about the sale of the road. There are members on the committee who are individually in favor of a sale, but they have yielded this, and have no purpose but to perfect this bill to lease. Our time and attention will be given to it now, and all in one direction, not in opposition as heretofore:

"Are you in favor of the sale of the road?" asked Mr. Fricks, of Franklin.

"Yes, sir, if we can get money enough," was the reply, "and it don't prejudice my case to say so. There is money enough to buy the state road. But that isn't the question. We set forth plainly the object in view—to perfect say so. There is money chough to only the state road. But that isn't the question. We set forth plainly the object in view—to perfect the lease bill; and there is no reason why this committee should be singled out for discourte-ous treatment and insidious distrust. The question should come back to us without a single restriction."

CHAIRMAN RANKIN.

Mr. Rankin, of Gordon, explained again that he preferred having the question put to a vote then and there, and have the house make such changes as were necessary.

"The lease bill; is not in shape," said Mr. Patterson of Bibb. "Nowhere in it is there a provision that the road shall be leased to the party making the highest bid."

"I think there is," said Mr. Rankin, "but suppose there isn't. Why can't changes of that sort be made right here?"

"Can the gentleman from Gordon, "asked Mr. Huff." tell me what it is that he proposes to lease?"

"I'm glad you asked that "said Mr. Rankin,"

Huff. "tell me what it is that he proposes to lease?"

"I'm glad you asked that," said Mr. Rankin promptly, "if the committee proposes to determine such points as that I think the bill had better stay in the house. The bill is to lease "the road and its houses, workshops, depots, and rolling stock and other appurtenances of every character." I hold that's definite enough. Nobody can tell more nearly until the actual expiration of the present lease. Others have tried to cumber this question with the question of betterments, and all that is unnecessary and misleading. I hope the house will vote down my motion to recommit and every other motion to recommit. It ought to be settled here on the floor of the house."

MR. CANDLER, OF DERALB.
"I think the bill should be recommitted," said Mr. Candler, of DeKalb. "I was elected pledged to vote for the lease first, last and all the time. But the request of the committee is eminently proper, and it would be discourteous and unwise to refuse it. It is very unusual to refuse such a request. The effect of the proposed amendment, supported by Dr. Felton, is to tie the committee hand and foot to his bill No. 65. If this house sustains that amendment, referring the question back with the proposed efficiency. They commit them reiton, is to the the committee hand and foot to his bill No. 65. If this house sustains that amendment, referring the question back with the proposed restrictions, 'they commit them selves to No. 65. Consistency, if nothing else, would bind them to vote for No. 65 and for no other. Now, that bill has never been very critically examined. Under certain circumstances, the lease of the road to a corporation would be unconstitutional— I think it would—the provisions of the bill must be accurately adjusted to meet this objection. Suppose ten railroads put in bids of $35,000 or $40,000, and some private corporation bids $10,000. Then suppose the courts declared the railroad bids unconstitutional, the lease would go to the legal bid of $10,000. Consider the importance of the question and think how many questions might arise. It should be critically and completely examined, and the committee should be given their own time on it. Rather than bind this committee to report favorably on No. 65 it would be better to reset the bill right now with arise. It should be critically and completely examined, and the committee should be given their own time on it. Rather than bind this committee to report favorably on No. 65 it would be better to pass the bill right now, with all its faults. It should be recommitted with no restrictions."

MR. GLENN, OF WHITHIELD.

"I remember reading," said Hon. W. C. Glenn, of Whitfield, "about an iron god named Moloch that the Assyrian mothers used to sacrific their young and their all to in the frenzy of religious excitement. This house bill No. 65 is the Moloch of the Western and Atlantic question. Everything—a young idea, no matter how promising; a suggestion, no matter how well-timed—everything must be sacrificed to this Moloch. What's all this hurry for? Its a year and a half yet until the expiration of the lease. Discussion must come up, and an hour's discussion in the committee room will save five hours' discussion in the house. But amendment, and substitute, and maybe the constitution of Georgia—everything must be sacrificed to this Moloch. No. 65 is to recommit, with instructions to report back No. 65. The gentleman from DeKalb summed it up about right—to vote for Mr. Rankin's amendment to the report is to commit yourself to No. 65, and not many people know enough about it do do any such thing. The committee just want to get up the best lease bill they can. The Moloch bill may be best, and they may report in favor of it. Leave them free to perfect the bill

"WITHOUT RESTRICTIONS."

The amendment offered by Mr. Rankin was put to a vote and lost—84 to 74.

There was some excitement over the matter, and the result was applauded—the first applause of the session.

Upon motion of Mr. Simmons of Sumter, the whole question of the Western and Atlantic lease was referred to the committee, without restrictions.

Mr. Rankin of Gordon moved that the committee hair transfer to some beach and interested to remove back on or bele lease was referred to the committee, without restrictions.

Mr. Rankin of Gordon moved that the committee be instructed to report back on or before the 18th inst.

This was opposed by nearly all that had voted against Mr. Rankin's amendment to the report, but Mr. Huff, who had voted against the Rankin amendment, favored this resolution. He has something to say to Dr. Felton, and took this occasion to ring it in.

"In all else," said he, "I am willing that the committee be unrestricted. I was opposed to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Gordon, and yet mere so after he had listened to the remarks of the gentleman from Bartow in favor of it. They are trying to limit this important question to amending bill No. 65. This bill is too defective to even serve as the foundation of an important measure.

"It does not provide for the disposition of the road in the event that more than one association of individuals were willing to give the prescribed amount, and it does not specify what was the property that the state should all the committee on all for the state of the registration bill for Fulton committee on rail-roads.

"It does not provide for the disposition of the road in the event that more than one association of individuals were willing to give the prescribed amount, and it does not specify what was the property that the state should advertise for lease. A perfect bill, forsooth, when it does not set out the two most important features which should be embodied in it. The gentleman from Bartow had insinuated that certain gentlemen were in favor of the sale of the road, as if the entertaining of that opinion were a reproach. He had stated that a present senator of Georgia and the president of the present leasing company had declared that whoever favored the sale of the state road, would be hurled from power by the people. That threat falls harmless at my feet. This is not the first time the people of Georgia have been threatened by the gentleman from Bartow or by the distinguished authority he quotes. The threat quoted and indexed by the gentleman from Bartow sounds too much like the crack of a boss's whip to find a responsive echo in my heart. I shall not at this inoportune time enter into a discussion of the best disposition to be made of the State road, but I do unhesitatingly assure the gentleman from Bartow that I am in favor of the sale if a preper price can be obtained for it. If it is more profitable to the state te sell it, I am in favor of selling it. And if the profit be equal, I prefer a sale. I have not, sir, enlisted beneath the banner of the gentleman from Bartow upon the one hand, or the gentleman from Webster upon the other. I serve under neither. I am anxieus for a speedy settlement of this important matter, but my anxiety is not such as to have caused me, like the gentleman from Bartow, to anticipate the action of the house and introduce a bill creating a hundred and fifty hungry mouths to devour the income from the lease of the State road er yet the legislature has decided to lease it. I wish a full and free discussion on the floor of this house, in the hear-

I wish a full and free discussion on the floor of this house, in the hearing of the people who own the road, as to what shall be done with this property. I wish it speedily, and I ask the house to so order by the adoption of this resolution."

The motion was then put to a vote and carried.

The Senate.

The potent, grave and reverend seignors of the senate have a timely weakness for the light and fantastic. It is a particularly graceful thing that the license for the Terpsichorean festivities should have its origin in the august chamber which, in the most straight-laced sense of the word, is dedicated to wisdom.

When the resolution was introduced by Senator Bartlett to tender the use of the capitol building to the citizens of Atlanta for the reception and entertainment on the 8th of August it would have been unanimously passed under a suspension of the rules had not the senator let it go over under the rule to prevent an interference with the accumulated this resolution some important new bills were introduced.

Senator Rice's bill to amend the charter of Senator Rice's bill to amend the charter of the city of Atlanta is probably the most important. It includes all the amendments asked by the city council and advertised in their legal notice, except the one giving the police atenure of office during good behavior.

That clause, although it appears in the caption, Mr. Rice refused to put in the bill, as he does not think it a democratic measure. He goes further and says that he will fight any bill of that kind if it should be brought bill of that kind if it should be brought in by any one else.

This provision, which was unanimously adopted by the council of the city, is a local application of the principle of the civil service law. The other important features are the extension of the city limits a quarter of a mile in every direction. This would take in a part of West End and other interesting suburbs. A similar extension asked for in a bill a couple years ago was vigorously fought and finally defeated by the territory it was proposed to annex. The bill, if passed, will precipitate an annexation campaign, and those who have passed through such campaigns know how lively and interesting they are likely to be.

Senator Hall's bill to make it incumbent on attorneys to take cases to the supreme court on briefs of evidence, without the voluminous transcript of all the evidence, will afford immense relief to the supreme court. His other bill, making it the duty of the judge to specify what evidence is necessary to decide particular points in motions for new trial, will effect a great reduction in the volume of the records carried up, and will be a relief to both the superior and supreme court judges.

carried up, and will be a relief to both the superior and supreme court judges.

Senator Massengale's bill for a board of pardons would take off the governor's hands a mass of work which now takes up a great part of the valuable time of the executive.

Senator Rice's bill to charter the Collins Park and Belt railroad gives the right of way into the city of Atlanta and around it through portions of Fulton, Dekalb and Cobb counties. The corporation is to have all the rights of a railroad, with the right to use any motive power now known or hereafter to be invented.

NEW SENATE BILLS.

The following is a full list of the bills introduced and read the first time and referred:

By Senator Hatl—A bill to authorize Spaiding county to issue bonds for public improvements.

By Senator Hail—A bill to authorize Spalding county to issue bonds for public improvements. Special judiciary.

Also a bill altering the oath of witnesses before grand juries. General judiciary.

Also a bill to amend the tax act. Committee on finance. nance. By Senator Massengale—A bill to create a board

Also a registration bill for Fulton county-Special judiciary. DISCUSSING THE JAIL BILL.

At a session of the general judiciary committee of the senate yesterday afternoon Senator Bartlett's jail bill came up for discussion, and District United States Attorney Erwin, of the southern district of Georgia, appeared to cross against the bill argue against the bill.

He maintained that the jailer was an officer of the United States court, and quoted from a of the United States court, and quoted from a number of authorities to sustain his position. He argued that Jailer Birdsong chained the prisoner up so short that if he had fainted, according to the testimony of two physicians, he would have died of strangulation in five to twenty-five minutes.

For this kind of punishment he said Judge Speer fined the jailor shifty dollars. He maintained that the jailor should have used some such discipline as solitary confinement with bread and water instead of the chaining up in a standing position.

a standing position.

Senator Bartlett will be heard from in reply

Senator Bartiett will be heard from in reply at the next session of the committee.

Senator Ballard, chairman of the committee on agriculture, reported in favor of allowing Senator Williams to withdraw his bill to give landlords control of renters' crops, and the bill was allowed to be withdrawn. Legislative Notes. McIvor, the colored contingent, hasn't said a word this session.

Hon. C. M. Candler, of DeKalb, made the talk yesterlay that laid out the Rankin amend-talk yesteriay that laid out the Kankin anchement.

It is prophesied that the fight of the session is to be between Dr. Felton of Bartow and Mr. Patterson of Bibb.

Senator Alfred H. Colquitt was on the floor of the house yesterday shaking hands and chatting with his frien is in the legislature.

Judge Putnam, of Lawson, was in his seat for the first time yesterday. The judge is one of the most popular and one of the strongest leaders in the present house.

Uncle Ben Duggar, of Fannin, was back at his seat in the house yesterday for the first time in several days. He has been to Fannin court on leave as a witness.

Before the penitentiary committee yesterday afternoon the McIntyre bill, to provide for the separation of male and female, and white and black prisoners, was referred to a special company. The house special judiciary committee reported favorably the bill of Hon. Clark Howell, requiring engineers to stand examinations before attempting to run stationary engines, including gin

Hon. W. T. Smith, of Gwinnett, is talked of Hon. W. T. Smith, of Gwinnett, is talked of as the next congressman from the minh. His able support of several measures for the relief of ex-con federate soldiers has won an enviable reputation for bim in the house and strengthens him at home. Dr. Felton's bill for higher education and Mr. Atkinson's bill for a branch college for girls were read yesterday for the second time, and 300 copies of the Atkinson bill ordered printed. Three house committee on education listened to an extended argument from Mr. McDonald, the member from Ware, on his compulsory education bill. At the conclusion of the argument the committee adjourned without taking a vote, but it is certain that the committee will not report the bill favorably.

A small colored delegation, headed by Prof. W. W. Wright, of Augusta, and Smith Easley, of Atlanta, were on hand yesterday to inform the committee on appropriations that the colored peedile didn't want their $8,000 appropriation to go to a normal school. An effort will be made to have the appropriation go back to the Atlanta universities. The delegation will be heard from at the next committee meeting.

Chairman Huff of the penitentiary committee, is waiting for the report of the road congress to Chairman Huff of the penitentiary committee, is waiting for the report of the road congress to introduce an important bill. If the report suits it is to be incorporated in the bill. The idea is to put the convicts of Georgia all at work on the public roads of the state. The change must be gradually, and the bill is adapted to this. It is made about 20 years until the convict lease expires, and just that long until the object of the bill comes into full effect.

Another important bill, soon to be introduced by Mr. Atkinson, strikes a heavy blow at the Standard Oil company. As the law now stands there is a marked difference in the inspecting fees for oil in bulk and in small quantities. The Standard Oil company takes advantage of this fact and gets the lowest inspection rates by introducing its product in bulk. No competing line can do this, and the Standard Oil company can give back the one centifineed be, and virtually control the trade. The inient of the bill is to make the difference much smaller and place the big company more nearly on a footing with other oil companies in Georgia.

An important action was taken yesterday by nearly on a footing with other oil companies in Georgia.

An important action was taken yesterday by the judiciary committee. They agreed, by a vote of 11 to 8, to recommend the passage of Hon. W. C. Glenn's bill putting the railroads, so far as county taxation is concerned, upon the same footing as other corporations. This bill has come up four or five times since the war, but was always defeated in the committee on the ground that oid roads—like the Georgia, the Central, and the Savannah, Florida and Western—would be exempt from the tax by a provision of their charters, and that it would be a discrimination to exact it of other roads. This is the first time it ever received the sanction of a judiciary committeee. Mr. Glenn, of Whitfield, and Mr. Atkinson, of Coweta, spoke for the bill. A motion to reconsider will be made today or at the next committee meeting, and a minority report will be made.

Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, of Coweta, will introduce another trustbill in a few days. In its general plan it is very similar to that of Mr. Canalter, of Dekalb. The fine of the offending corporation—is to be not less than one nor more than twenty per cent of the capital stock, and the officers and agents of every description are to be fined not less than 500 nor more than five years. The sproylsions as to forfeiture of charter and nullity of contracts are the same as in the Candler bill. Another provision is that in civil suit to recover the amount of the fine, officers and employes of the monopoly are required to answer all questions, even though they oriminate themselves. It is expressly stipulated, however, that such statements or answers cannot be used as evidence in a criminal proceeding. Both the Candler bill, except that the criminal proceeding. Both the Candler of the committee is probable.

Baseball in Milledgeville.

Baseball in Milledgeville.

MILLEGEVILLE, Ga., July 9.—[Special.]—
Baseball has been dead here for the last two or three years, but it has been resurrected within the last two weeks and is all the go now. Dr. Charles Herty, who has been in attendance of Johns Hopkins university, of Baltimore, has returned to the city a well developed baseball player, as well as a chemist of good repute, and with him came the baseball craze that has taken a firm hold on men of every calling, while the small boy's shrine of worship is in a pitcher's box or the home base of a ball diamond. The influence the national game has here can be illustrated by a scene in the office of one of the hotels last night, where two young fellows sat discussing the players of different leagues until they could scarcely speak above a whisper. Silence prevailed for a moment and a bystander suggested 'talked to death,' but one braced up and, with a mighty effort, gasped to the other with oxpiring breath "baseball," while the other echoed in a guttural whisper that indicated vitality "when is the game?"

A BENEFIT FOR WHALEN. President Wharton's Official Notification That the Jig is up.

Baseball in the south has collapsed and the Southern league is a thing of the past. The Atlanta club looked to New Orleans to retrieve the losses they had met with in other towns, but no one could spare time from the Sullivan-Kilrain fight to go and see a ball match.

M1. H. B. Deas received this letter yester-day from T. D. Wharton, president of the Southern League:

New Orleans, July 6, 1889.—Dear Deas: The jig up, Business was so bad in Macon and Columbus New Orleans, July 6, INSA—Peri Dean.

is up. Business was so bad in Macon and Columbus that the club had no money to reach Chattanoga.

After it got there it rained. Then New Orleans and Mobile were unable to help any further. Business was so bad in New Orleans that she disbanded. It has been one round of misfortunes. I am mortified to death over the whole thing. If I was worth money and could pay the players I wouldn't care, but i have done all that a man could to keep the league going. Please let your people know. Yours truly.

This blow falls particularly heavy on Manager Whalen, who has done all in his power to keep the Atlanta club going. Some of his friends have, therefore, undertaken to get up a benefit game to raise the means for him to return to his home, at Buffalo, N. Y. The game will be played next Monday.

A nine of the old Atlanta players have volunteered to take part in the game, and would like to hear from either the policemen, firemen, lawyers or any other nine who will cross bats with them on that data.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, July 2.-Trading was active and the market was stronger. There was some investment buying and shorts covered freely. July advanced 2c and closed about 1½c higher than yesterday. August and closed about 114c higher than yesterday. August opened 14694c higher, declined 34c, then advanced 134c, and closed 134c higher. September closed 144c higher. December, which is attracting the principal attention, opened 14663c, higher, declined 34c, then advanced 134c, and closed 144c higher than yesterday. The feeling was unsettled early in the session, but developed into a rather bullish tendency later. The very strong tenor of foreign advices was the principal induence on the market. The English markets evidently are being affected some by the dry weather. The domestic markets settled back again 56 7c and closed steady.

A moderate business was transacted in the lard market. The feeling was somewhat unsettled and prices ruled 'fregular and averaged lower. The opening sales we'de mbde at yesterday's closing figures, but a weak feeling was quickly developed and a reduction of 56 7½ cws submitted. Toward the close the feeling was steadier, and prices advanced 23,656 and closed steady.

The market for short rib sides was fairly active and prices exhibited very little change.

IAKE MORRIS IS DEAD.

A WELL-KNOWN CITY CHARACTER DIES SUDDENLY.

His Body Discovered Yesterday Morning-A Sketch of the Dead Man's Life—Economical in Life, He Leaves a Small Fortune in Insurance.

Everybody knew, everybody liked Jakey Plain and unassuming in his personality, honest and thoroughly conscientious in his work, Jakey Morris made a place for

Now that place is empty-he is dead! His body, cold and stiff in death, was first discovered about 6 o'clock yesterday morning by the woman who took care of his apartment. the facts tend to indicate that he had been dead since about 10 o'clock the night before.

Mr. Morris had been to a meeting of the Masonic lodge of which he was a member, and had gone home apparently in the best of spirits. After reaching his room he began to undress, and while attempting to pull off his shoes he was stricken with apoplexy and died. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts as stated above. Mr. Morris was a man between farty-five and fifty years of age, and leaves two children, Miss Henric Morris and a daughter, Mrs. Rosa Solomon, who is wedded to a prominent business man of Americus.

Mr. Morris was in the employ of the city as janitor of the city hall and messenger of the city council for eight years. He has always been economical in his habits, spending little money on himself. But he took care of his daughters by taking out about $10,000 worth of insurance, most of it in secret societies. He belonged to the B'Nai Brith, Sons of Isreal, Knights of Honor, Royal Areanum, Odd Fellows, Masons, The Golded Chain, the National Union and other secret organizations.

Mr. Morris came to Atlanta about twenty years ago, and was first employed by Mr. L. B. Folsom, in his restaurant. He came originally from Posen, Germany, and married a widow lady, Mrs. Burkett, near Hawkinsville. By this lady he has the two daughters mentioned above. A stepson, Mr. Burkett, works with Mr. Isaac Steinheimer.

Mr. Isaac Steinheimer.

THE CORONOR'S INQUEST.

The coronor held an inquest at noon. The autopsy showed that the spinal cord had been snapped and death must have ensued immediately. The evidence of the negro woman who first found the body was that Mr. Morris was lying face downward. Dr. Chapman, who has an office on the same floor of the Mauck building said that the face of the dead man was black and distorted, at if death had been most painful. THE FUNERAL.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral will take place from the synagogue this morning at 9 o'clook. The societies of which Mr. Morris was a member will attend.

Mayor Glenn has Issued the following order:
ATLANTA, July 9, 1889.—When a faithul office dies, to matter now humble his position, the public should pay due respect to nis memory. Jacob Morris has served the eity of Atlanta for many years as messenger for the general council. He was conscientious in discharging his duties. Tomerrow at 9 o'clock his remains will be buried, and I request the members of the general council and the city officers to attend his funeral in a body, and to enable the officers to do this I direct that the city offices be closed from 9 to 10 o'clock. officers to move to do this to block officers to do this to block officers be closed from 9 to 10 o'clock.

John T. Glenn, Mayor.

Filling the Vacancy.

The council will probably elect a successor to Mr. Morris at its meeting next Monday. Yesterday Chairman English wrote Chief Connolly requesting him to order Officer L. B. Moon to temporary duty in the position, and Mayor Clenn wrote an order indorsing the appointment.

Physicians Confess.

All honest, conscientious physicians who give B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) a trial, frankly admit its superiority over all other blood medicines.
Dr. W. J. Adair, Rockmart, Ga., writes: "I regard B. B. B. as one of the best blood medicines."
Dr. A. H. Roscoe, Nashville, Tenn., writes: "All reports of B. B. ere favorable, and its speedy action is cruly wonderful."

reports of B. B. B. ere favorable, and its speedy action is truly wonderful."

Dr. J. W. Rhodes, Crawfordsville, Ga., writes: "I confees B. B. B. is the best and quiekest medicine for rheumatism I have ever tried."

Dr. S. J. Farmer, Crawfordsville, Ga., writes: "I cheerfully recommend B. B. B. as a fine tonic alternitive. Its use cured an excrescence of the neck after other remedies effected no perceptible good."

Dr. C. H. Montgomery, Jacksonville, Ala., writes: "My mother insisted on my getting B. B. B. for her rheumatism, as her case stubbornly resisted the usual remedies. She experienced immediate relief, and her improvement has been truly wondserful."

A prominent physician who wishes his name not given, says: "A patient of mine whose case of tertiary syphilis was surely killing him, and which no treatment seemed to cheek, was entirely cured with about twelve bottles of B. B. B. He was fairly made up of skin and bones and tearlible ulcers."

Dick Hornbooker, is a respected and well-to-do colored citizen of Springfield, Mo. He says that one bottle of Swift's Specific cured both himself and wife of a troublesome erup-tion of the skin.

TO THE LADIES OF ATLANTA,

And All Interested in Home and to Those

Who Like "The Best." "Straws show which way the wind blow," a true paying. Four times during this last fiscal year to June 1st we have given orders for 50,000 blanks on which to write orders given by individuals, and with a percentage of waste this gives an idea of our immense business. We have just had another 50,000 lot printed, and judging from our recently increased business, it will not be long before we will be com-pelled to have printed a like amount. Few people ow of the immensity of our business. A few year ago such a statement as - sales per day in a retail grocery business in Atlanta would have been re-garded with a degree of distrust, but we assure you We are adding daily to our list of customers the best patronage in the city of Atlanta, and success, which always attends a proper amount of enterprise and energy, is before us. It is one thing to run a large business, another to succeed. Now, in view of these things, we ask you to consider who have the fresh-est, best goods, the merchant who gets high prices est, best goods, the merchant who gets high prices and slow sales. (hence slow, stale goods), or the merchant who disposes largely of his wares and replenishes his stock—this is the straw, etc. Now, my reader, we want your patronage. We ask you to try our system of doing business; you will be pleased with our prices, delighted, with our goods, and be repaid for your judgment in properly placing your patronage. Our ice circam is undoubtedly the best in Atlanta. Our Regal Patent Flour is unquestionably the highest grade sold. To prove this statement, take any merchant's best, test them side by side, and that that yields the sweetest, best loaf—in the language of the poet of the day—should have the plum. Is this not a fair proposition? Our ice cold melons from off the ice continue in favor. Our cold melons from off the ice continue in favor. Our Rijama coffee is the best blend in Atlanta—hence, with all these bests, we want the patronage of all those who desire "The Best." We guarantee each and every article we sell. We save you worry and HOYT & THORN, Fancy Grocers, 90 Whitehall,

About July 1 the Ph. H. Postell Mill Company will start their new mill just completed at Moscoutab, and the new machinery just placed in the old mill will also be ready for operation by that time.

After that date we will be able to fill all orders for Postell's flour promptly. After Thursday of this week we can fill orders for Piedmont Patent and Moscoutab Star, but the orders for Elegant will have to wait a little longer. We return our sincere thanks to our cus tomers for their patience. We will ship fast as flour is received. There never was such a demand for Postell's flour before. The sales in Atlanta are three times larger than last year, and from New York to New Orleans the demand has been unprecedented. Orders from New York City for a thousand barrels of Elegant at a time had to be declined only because the demand has been so great.

The new wheat flour will meet the highest expectations. "We continue to press for the highest mark," says Mr. Postell, and the most magnificent flour either for pastry, cake or bread is proof of the attainment.

WILL OPEN TODAY. THE SECOND SESSION OF THE PIED-

The Professors and Lecturers are on Hand, and a Brilliant Programme Has Been Prepared-L'tenty and Musical Features-Today's Exercises.

The Piedmont Chautauqua opens today. It opens, too, with such a promising outlook that the managers feel confident it will prove the most successful meeting of the kind ever held.

Since last year several changes have been made tending to increase the beauty of the Moorish looking buildings, and at the same stoorish looking buildings, and at the same time add materially to the comfort of the lucturers and students. A number of very comfortable and exceedingly picturesque cottages have been built in the grounds and every one of these have been let for the season. Tents in which single men who are anxious to benefit by the lectures can be to the properties have also keen pictory themselves have also keen pictory themselves have can bestow themselves have also been pitched about the grounds.

The arrangements for mental culture have been quite as thorough as those for personal comfort. The best professors from all over the land will be gathered together at the Chaus tauqua.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME.

The president and board of directors will meet today at 1 o'clock at the depot and leave by the 1:15 train for the grounds. They will be met by the Weber band of Cincinnati, and proceed at once to the great tabernacle, where ten minute talks will be given by the four vice presidents, Mr. II. W. Grady, Captain E. P. Howell, Judge Van Epps and Mr. H. H. Cabinass. After this the Weber band will give a short concert while the management holds a business meeting. In the evening the Rev. E. A. Young, of Nashville, Tean., will deliver a lecture on "Way-side Studies in the Orient." The return train will leave the Chantauqua grounds at nine o'clock, arriving in Atlanta at 10:30.

THE PROFESSOR AND LECTURERS.
who will be on hand during the opening days, or most of them, passed through the city yes-terday. The Weber band is here and will furnish the music during the session. Most of the professors will occupy cottages, some being quartered at Sweetwater Park hotel. All are enthusiastic over the outlook for a successful session.

The summer college, which opens next Friday, will consist of seven regular departments. Besides these there will be several special departments.

The first department, that of English, will be under the direction of Professor W. S. Currell, M.A., Ph.D., of Davidson college, N.C. He will devote his time to English language, English literature and Shakspeare. In connection with this department Professor Charles W. Kent, M. A., Ph. D., of the university of Tennessee, will deliver a series of popular loctures, beginning August 10th, on the development of English literature.

The second department will be of German, under the management of Professor Carl Osthaus, of the university of Indiana. Professor Osthaus will use German in the class room as much as feasible, and great stress will be laid on the practice of speaking and translating by ear.

Professor Casinner Zdanowiez, M. A., from Vanderbilt university, Tennessee, will devote his attention to three French classes—one for beginners, one for intermediate and one for advanced scholars. In this department also French will be used as much as possible as the medium of instruction, and each class will receive five hours' inition each week.

The department of Latin will be under the direction of Frofessor W. H. Perkinsen, of the University of Virginia. The insernction in this department is designed essentially for teachers. Accardingly each class will be a normal class. Not only will an effort be medeto teach Latin, but also to teach the methods of teaching.

Professor R. H. Dabney, M. A. Ph. D., Unidepartments.
The first department, that of English, will teach Latin, but also to teach the incheds of teaching.

Professor R. H. Dabney, M. A. Ph. D., University of Indiana, will have three classes to whom he will lecture five hours a week on history and political economy. His subjects will be: "The French Revolution," "theretal History of European Civilization," and "The Principles of Political Economy."

The department of physics and meteorology will be in charge of Professor Thomas D. Davidsen, M. A. Ph. D., Universty School of Atlanta.

Atlanta.

The department of mathematics will be in charge of Professor Miller and Professor Davidson.

Professor Zdanowicz, as his name would show is not a Frenchman, but he has resided in Paris fourteen years and his French accent is perfect. Professor Osthaus is a native of Hanover, with the enterprise are Americans.

SPECIAL DIFFARTMENTS.

The special departments will consist of a class of oratory conducted by Professor Mark B. Beal. Miss Margaret E. Lindley will conduct a class of physicial culture. The Symnasium will be furnished with lighs as well as heavy apparatus, and great attention will be given to the correction of physical defects.

The Art school will be under the direction of Miss Martha H. Hoke, from the St. Louis art school. She will teach drawing sketching from nature, painting in oil and water colors, craven work and flower and decorative painting. Miss Hoke has a pleasant studio fitted up and is ready today to enroll students.

Dr. W. L. Davidson will teach the Sanday-school classes, both junior and normal departments.

Dr. W. L. Davidsen will teach the Sundayschool classes, both jurior and normal departments, and Dean Aifred A. Wright, D. D., will preside over the Ministers' institute and school of New Testament, Greek.

As TO THE OUTLOOK.

It is impossible to form any estimate of the attendance on the classes, as each professor has received a number of notices from people who mean to attend some special course. There is no question, however, that the attendance will be greater by several thousand than it was last year. The grounds and buildings are all in the most period: order and althoug the great crowd will on'r begin to gather this morning, by tenight there will be cough people to than the quiet wooks into a populous summer resort.

on application.

The citizens of Lawrenceville are taking a great deal of interest in the reunion, and are making great preparations for the event. They will do all in their power to make the occasion a happy one, and, with this end in view, the chairman of the citizens' committee has written the following letter:

LAWRENCEVILE, Ga. July &—Colonel L. P. Thorma, A lants, Ga.; Dear sir—Our citizens propose to entertain such of the old solders of the Forty-second and Thirty-fifth Georgh commands as shad arrive here on the day before your reunion, trovided we are notified of the number who will be here. Will you, therefore, have a notice published requesting those who expect to arrive on the day before to furnish me their names by the 18th first. This will save confusion and enable the committee to prepare for them. Very truly, etc.

SPIRITUALISTS AT LOOKOUT.

Annual Meeting of the Association-Mr. A. C. Ludd Addresses the Meeting. Last Sunday was the first day of the annual amp meeting of the Lookout Mountain association of spiritualists. The meeting was opened at half-past ten o'clock Sunday morning, in the presence of a large number of people, including many who were not members of the association. The association owns twenty acres of the ground on the summit of the mountain, including a splendid hotel and a large number of cottages. Both hotel and cottages are filled with members and vistors, and never since the organization of the association, six years ago, has an annual convention been inaugurated bas an annual convention been inaugurated under more favorable anspices.

Quite a number of Atlanta people are in attendance, and several of them take a prominent place among the leaders of the organization. The meetings are becoming more popular each year, and people from all parts of the country spend their summer vacations there.

Mr. A. C. Ladd, of Atlanta, delivered the address of welcome, and in the evening he spoke on "The Tenants of Our Institutions—Wisdom, Justice, Mercy." Both of his addresses were pronounced by the Chattanooga press as exceedingly fine.

A number of other lectures were delivered at the opening meeting by people of wide reputation in their lines. A trance lecture and tests were very interesting features.

The meeting will continue until the first of September, and special rates have been offered by the railroads to those visiting the campmeeting.
